

Backworth Park Primary School Intent and Implementation Statement

English

INTENT

Our aim at Backworth Park Primary school is to deliver an exciting, engaging and creative English curriculum which supports and encourages children to learn to read and write with confidence. Our curriculum also aims to support and develop the children's oracy skills.

Reading is the most important skill, as it helps the children to access the world. Therefore, we want the children to have a passion for reading and enjoy reading for pleasure. The aim is to ensure that children not only learn how to read but also develop a love for books and the immersive, imaginary worlds they can offer.

Through this love of reading we aim to encourage the children to write accurately, imaginatively and to adapt their language and style to suit a range of writing contexts.

IMPLEMENTATION

Writing

At Backworth Park Primary School we strive to ensure our children start with a firm foundation in literacy skills, beginning in the Early Years. The children then build upon this foundation as they move through school. We recognise that literacy skills are a key component for all learning. We follow the Early Years Statutory Guidance and the National Curriculum 2014 when planning our learning opportunities.

Our English curriculum has been designed with rich, engaging and relevant texts at the heart of it. The children are exposed to a wide range of texts from different genres and contexts. The texts cover a wide range of topics and are closely linked to the children's learning across the wider curriculum. The curriculum has been planned in this way to enable the children to feel immersed in their learning and feel as though they can draw on and use their knowledge from subject to subject effectively.

The curriculum is taught in a range of styles to promote quality learning and to motivate the children to achieve success.

For example:

- Direction
- Demonstration
- Modelling
- Scaffolding
- Explanation
- Targeted questioning
- Initiating and guiding exploration
- Discussing and challenging ideas generated by the children
- Listening and responding to children in a sensitive and supporting manner, discussing and evaluating children's successes

The children access the English curriculum daily.

Reading

Our reading provision aims to equip pupils with the skills and knowledge necessary to read fluently and confidently while developing a love for reading.

Teachers at Backworth Park Primary understand the importance of championing themselves as readers and model this to the children. Teachers share their core English texts with the children during daily teacher led reading sessions and within whole class reading sessions in KS2, as well as other texts from the Backworth Park Reading Spine. Reading for pleasure is developed further through:

- Regular reading aloud time and sharing of books.
- A wide range of literature being promoted by teachers.
- High quality reading displays and reading areas.
- Regular opportunities for pupils to read self – chosen books silently.
- Whole School Book Days/weeks and celebration of national book events
- Home challenges linked to reading.
- Weekly 'Book Club' where children get to share about what they are reading and make recommendations.
- Reading leaders promote a love of reading and select a range of books for their classrooms.

These approaches allow children to listen to a story being read to them often, which supports their enjoyment of reading and also provides opportunities for children to enjoy sharing stories with others. These strategies also help expose the children to a wide range of vocabulary through a range of text genres.

EYFS

At Backworth Park Primary School in the foundation stage we plan from the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum (EYFS). On entry judgements are made against the Development Matters bands to identify each child's starting point and ensure teaching and learning meets the needs of all. A mixture of child initiated planning and accurate AfL ensures an exciting and hands on cross curricular approach to enable children to make good progress. Phonics is taught daily, in ability groups following the Read, Write Inc scheme. Teaching and learning combines reading, spelling, handwriting and spoken language. Shared and modelled reading, plus regular story time, fosters a love of books. Children are actively encouraged to access online reading resources and practise keywords at home. Writing is promoted across the curriculum using both the inside and outside learning environments.

Key Stage 1

In Years 1 and 2 children develop their reading, writing speaking and listening skills as they work towards the end of Key Stage 1 standards. Pupils continue to follow the Read Write Inc scheme to build their knowledge of phonics in order to develop their reading skills as well as continuing to build upon their recognition of the common exception words. Pupils engage with a wide range of text types and develop their love of reading through daily story time. Children will have a 30-minute Phonics lesson and a 1-hour English lesson daily. Through their English lessons pupils begin to develop their writing skills. Pupils write for a range of purposes and audiences using some increasingly varied grammar including coordinating and subordinating conjunctions and expanded noun phrases. Spelling and handwriting are a daily focus as we aim to embed all the basic skills necessary for children to meet the expected standards in literacy for the end of the key stage.

Key Stage 2

The Read Write Inc phonics scheme continues into KS2 for the children who require this support.

In Key Stage 2 children build upon their previous learning. Children learn to read increasingly complex texts developing their comprehension skills through daily whole class reading sessions. Children engage with a vast range of genres exploring writer techniques and their impact on the reader. Through their daily English lessons pupils learn to use an increasingly sophisticated range of sentence structures and grammar in their writing coupled with some advanced punctuation including colons and semi-colons. Spelling and handwriting continue to be a keen focus as pupils learn to employ a growing range of spelling patterns and rules with increased accuracy. Children build up their composition skills writing more refined texts and using editing skills to improve them further as they work towards the standards expected in order to be secondary ready.
